

In a make-it-or-break-it attempt to launch their Hollywood careers, two dysfunctional college grads set out to make their own movie, but quickly come to realize that their biggest obstacles will come from within themselves.

DEEP: Male, early 20s, main. The man with big dreams but little action... until now. His laziness, lack of self-discipline, and eagerness to befriend his colleagues hold him back from being the best leader he could be. We are seeking an Indian American actor for this role.

EZ: Male or female, early 20s, main. Deep's best friend and creative partner. S/he's ambitious, hard-working, a little anal-retentive, and a closeted hopeless romantic. S/he struggles to keep Deep on track and to get over a break-up that's two years fresh. Open to all genders/races, Asian American preferred.

SHOI: Male, 18-22, supporting. This is his first film project ever and he's SO excited. He can't wait to make new friends and find out what a gaffer is!

DHANUSH: Male, 50s, supporting. Deep's father. He pushes his son to get a real job because he cares... and because he's sick of his house smelling like BO and cheap weed. A hardcore AVATAR: THE LAST AIRBENDER fan. We are seeking an Indian actor for this role.

IVANKA: Female, early 20s, supporting. EZ's ex-girlfriend and a former film student. She's living her best life, traveling with her Internet-famous new BF, not missing EZ at all.

HARDY: Male, early 20s, cameo. Ivanka's hot new boy toy with a thriving TikTok career. Speaks mostly in E-boy sound effects with subtitles.

OLD MAN: Male, 60+(-passing), cameo. EZ's co-worker who gives him/her the weirdest pep talk probably ever when s/he needs it most. Actor must be comfortable being filmed very briefly in his underwear at a distance.

WINSTON: Male, 20s, cameo. The lead actor in Deep's film.

BOSS: Male or female, 30+, cameo. EZ's boss at a software development company. Sleazy and untrustworthy.
